TO NAZI BOMBERS WAR ARE INTENSIFIED

Unrelenting Toll Levied Against German Aircraft Attacking British Isles

Today's War Moves

By J. W. T. MASON
British United Press War Expert
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
Intensification of German air raids over Great Britain is being accompanied by an increase of British retaliatory raids over Germany and German occupied territories, but without any known results affecting the outcome of the war. Casualties are considerable and announcements by both sides of planes destroyed show
they are far below replacements.

Neither belligerent gives particulars of damage done to war factories which, if extensive, might have serious consequences, particularly concerning airplane plants; for, if either side were to gain complete mastery of the air,
it would influence the final result.

WINDSOR WILL TAKE POST IN THREE WEEKS

Duke Likely Will Fly To Bermuda, and Sail To Nassau

By FREDERICK KUH
British United Press Exclusive Cable
To The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, July 12.—The Duke of Windsor will leave for the Bahamas to take up his new post as governor-general and commander-in-chief of the islands, in about three weeks, it was understood here today.

It was said that the Duke, whose appointment was announced yesterday, might fly to Bermuda and go from there to the Bahamas by boat with the Duchess, following after he has become settled at Nassau.
Palace sources said the Duke was pleased by the appointment which it was understood, was arranged personally by Prime Minister Winston Churchill with the King's approval.

During the abdication crisis caused by the Duke's decision to marry
the American Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, Churchill was his warmest supporter.

Bahamas Inhabitants
Profess Delight

British United Press Exclusive Cable
To The Edmonton Bulletin
NASSAU, the Bahamas, July 12.—
The inhabitants of the 29
islands, 661 islets and 1,287 rocks forming the Bahamas Islands, professed delight today that their former King, the Duke of Windsor, was going to be their governor general.

Those "in trade" expected him and his American-born duchess, to arrive in Nassau.

Thursday's Total Of Enemy Planes Destroyed Reaches 23—King George Escapes Death In Raid—R.A.F. Bombs Germany

LONDON, July 12.—An air ministry communique tonight said that "in all today 10 enemy bombers have been destroyed." Two British planes are missing, the statement added, as a result of engagements in defence of Britain's coasts.

LONDON, July 12.—With Royal Air Force attackers
matching the Germans raid for raid and with defence forces levying an unrelenting toll on planes attacking the British Isles, the air war of western Europe reached a new peak of intensity today.

The day's first casualty report came from northeast Scotland where it was said one bomb killed 10 persons "as far as known" and injured many others. The plane which dropped it was shot down and the crew perished in flames.

On the basis of official and unofficial reports, the tabulation of German planes shot down today in defence of the British Isles and British shipping stood in mid-afternoon as follows:

Scotland, one bomber.
East Coast, four bombers.
South Coast, one bomber.
Southwest Coast, two planes of unspecified type.

Wave after wave of heavy British bombers blasted military objectives deep in Germany last night, it was reported by aviation circles in anticipation of an official outline of the R.A.F.'s work.

British Pilot Attacks Oil Depots

During raids yesterday on German-occupied France and the Netherlands, it was announced, one British bomber penetrated far into Germany's industrialized Ruhr valley and in broad daylight attacked oil depots.

Three British planes failed to return from Germany,
but the air ministry balanced this loss by announcing that fighter commands of the British defence had confirmed the loss of another German plane in yesterday's actions
over Britain, thus bringing yesterday's total of German planes destroyed to 23.

The defenders of the British Isles started a new tabulation of German losses today with an air ministry announcement that four German bombers were blasted into the sea off the East coast this morning.

ROOSEVELT IS STILL SILENT ON THIRD TERM

By T. F. REYNOLDS

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Roosevelt announced definitely today that he would not go to Chicago to attend the Democratic national convention, but continued his secrecy as to his intentions on the third term.

Mr. Roosevelt, maintaining the greatest silence in American political history, gave no clue as to whether he intends to submit to the draft movement which is assuming overwhelming proportions as delegates gather at Chicago.

He would not tell press conference questioners whether he contemplated any message to the convention or to his political lieutenants who are organizing pre-convention strategy at Chicago.

Declaring that regardless of political and conventions, he still is president of the United States and business must go on as usual, Mr.
Roosevelt said his only plans are
for a brief cruise down the Potomac
Saturday and Sunday and a trip
a week from Sunday to his Hyde Park home.

U.S. Warships On Neutrality Patrol

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Roosevelt, at his press conference today, said in reply to a question that United States warships in the vicinity of the French island of Martinique were merely on neutrality patrol.

British warships are also in the area keeping a check on a portion of the French fleet at Martinique.

The four planes, caught by the gunlights of swift pursuit planes, were among 12 planes in a new squadron.

Earlier unofficial reports told of the downing of two German planes
by fighters off the southwest coast.
In early afternoon another bomber
was shot down in northeast Scotland and still another was said to have been caught in a screen of heavy anti-aircraft fire at a south coast
port and brought down.

German planes crossed the southwest coast in the early morning light but were quickly intercepted by a British fighter. Bursts of gunfire from the fighter were followed immediately by the dropping of a

DARDANELLES MUST BE FREE TURKEY TOLD

LONDON, July 12.—An informed neutral source said today Soviet Russia had told Turkey her control of the Dardanelles must be impartial and free from any other power's influence.

The Russian position on the Dardanelles question was described as shortly as being that "misuse of control of the straits would constitute a danger to Russian security which the Soviet state could not countenance."

This source said there had been no Russian ultimatum to Turkey.
A Soviet source declared Russia's foreign policy is "aimed solely at peace and security for Russia."

Japan Gains Little In Third Year Of War In China

On July 7, 1937, Japan started a war against China. The Japanese pulled fast the first year, but now, their fighting has lasted about three-fourths as long as the World War, the invaders have been slowed. Map shows how, despite control of strategic areas the Japanese have gained little in past year.

Russia Is Arming Against Day When Hitler Looks East

Here is the first of two uncorroborated dispatches dealing with events in the Soviet Union since the imposition of censorship there in the second month of the war. It has been transmitted from Tokyo by Peter C. Rhodes, British United Press staff correspondent who covered the Russo-Finnish war and the Norwegian campaign in the Narvik area. Rhodes reached Tokyo this week after a 6,000 mile journey of nearly a month. His travels took him by airplane from Stockholm to Riga and Moscow. After a brief stay in the capital he continued via the trans-Siberian railroad to Vladivostok where he spent six days before going to Tokyo, where he was able to file without censorship the dispatch, which follows.—EDITOR.

FARMERS' AID ACT CONTINUES FOR THIS YEAR

By B. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, July 12.—Maintenance
for the coming year of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, which provides assistance to farmers where crops average five bushels of wheat to the acre and less, will be provided in a bill to be introduced shortly by the minister of agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, it is understood.

Reports are being received by the department to serve as guide in estimating the probable requirements of the act during 1940-41, and preliminary information indicates a reduction in the assistance area in Manitoba. Figures for last year were 133 townships in Saskatchewan, 100 in Alberta and 100 in Manitoba. Manitoba's figure may be reduced to 30 to 35 townships.

The Russian position on the Dar-
danelles question was described as

BRITISH HOLD ITALIAN ARMY ON FRONTIER

Fortified African Post Is Strongly Defended Against Attack

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, July 12.—The beleaguered British garrison at Moyale, on the Kenya-Ethiopia frontier, had not made contact with troops going to its relief up to noon today, a communique disclosed.

Italians have been attacking the garrison since Wednesday morning.
It said the relieving troops were holding positions on a high ridge and added that "enemy casualties are not yet known but are believed to be heavy."

Since dawn Wednesday the defenders have been holding out against small arms and artillery,
and though more than 1,000 shells
have dropped into British positions, casualties have been completely light. British reinforcements are en route.

One of three Italian planes which bombed Wajir, in Kenya, was shot down by British planes
and a second was damaged.

Army headquarters issued the following communique:

RUMANIAN OIL WELLS PLACED UNDER CONTROL

By F. E. STEVENS

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 12.—
The new law placing all oil properties under government control has been today to have been designed to prevent British firms from turning over hundreds of millions of dollars worth of holdings in Rumania.

The resultant new law does not confiscate British oil property and permits foreign share holders to realize profits from Rumanian oil fields even though the Rumanian government will control the industry, well informed persons said.

Japanese Plan Expansion In Eastern Asia

Aim To Take Over Foreign Concessions In China, Blockade Hong Kong, Occupy Indo - China

By JOHN R. MORRIS
British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin
(Copyright, 1940, by British United Press)

SHANGHAI, July 12.—The Japanese army and navy have agreed on a program of vigorous expansion in East Asia and the South Seas regardless of the risk of colliding with British and American interests, a reliable Japanese source told the British United Press today.

Army leaders drafted the program, the British United Press informant said, and navy leaders have now agreed to support it.

As outlined, the program only for:

- 1.—Taking over the foreign concessions in China, as some army men have long advocated.
- 2.—An intensified blockade of Hong Kong, looking toward eventual occupation of that commercially and strategically important British colony.
- 3.—Sending armed forces to occupy French Indo-China.
- 4.—"Penetrating" in what way
was not clear, Borneo and the Netherlands East Indies, Borneo.

Plan To Evacuate Children Is Now Postponed

By J. F. SANDERSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 12.—The British government has postponed indefinitely the scheme to evacuate children to Canada and the United States, it was learned from reliable sources today.

The reason for the suspension is that the navy is unable at present to assign from more urgent duties
the necessary escort vessels for the ships carrying the children.

The decision to postpone the scheme will be announced in parliament early next week. But it will be emphasized that the scheme has only been postponed and not abandoned entirely. The government hopes that at some indefinite time in the future the general situation will improve so that naval vessels
can be spared for escort duties.

NOT TO INTERFERE
Although the government plan has been postponed it is not proposed to interfere with the private evacuation of children to Canada and the United States.

The government decision came when thousands of children all over the United Kingdom had been applied to go to Canada and the arrangements made on both sides of the Atlantic for their maintenance.
Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner, recently pointed out to the British government that ex-

75'S TRIED OUT ON TANKS WITH TELLING EFFECT

British United Press Exclusive Cable
To The Edmonton Bulletin
FORT LEWIS, Wash., July 12.—
Army officers today believed that they have been getting about the effect of 75 mm. guns on tanks.

They tried it out here yesterday and they still are looking for parts of the tanks.
Two of them were wed against a field while the 75's were aimed away. Two or three shots put each tank out of action, and succeeding this opened up the accrued while like firecrackers
open.

The five-eights inch armor plating the tanks carried has been repelled in number, most with a much heavier shell, but artillerymen said the experiment showed the devastating effect that 75's would have at close range on any tank that has ever been built.

UNRELENTING TOLL LEVIED AGAINST NAZIS

Bombing within less than half a minute. Bombers when attacked frequently try to lighten their planes by emptying their bomb racks.

Three houses of a southwestern town were destroyed, and others were damaged. One bomb struck a children's playground.

NEW ASSAULT

The air ministry said that night raiders crossed the eastern and southwestern coasts, dropping bombs in a few districts near the coast to launch a new day of assault on sea and land objectives.

Casualties in the night attack were "light" according to the air ministry, and none was fatal.

Nazi raids were broadened today to include Scotland as well as southern England. A German bomber missed one of the clouds over a southwestern Scottish city shortly after noon and three Spitfire fighters met it with a swiftening challenge.

The invaders dropped two bombs as the fighters ranged up. The bomber's fire but apparently was nullified by full bursts of the fighters' guns.

BURST INTO FLAMES
Like a wounded bird, the plane crashed the city, leaving a trail of smoke poured from the tail. The bomber just cleared rooftops on the outskirts of the city, and burst into flames where both it and the building burst into flames. The crew perished.

HENRI PETAIN IS NOW SOLE FRENCH RULER

Aged Soldier Takes Over
All Authority As Third
Republic Passes

VICHY, Fr., July 12.—Under the shadow of the Swastika, aged Marshal Henri Petain took to his bed today the reins of power in the authoritarian France. Publication in the official journal of a "constitutional act" over his own signature gave the 84-year-old "hero of Verdun" combined powers of president and premier, and marked the death of the defunct Third French republic. President Albert Lebrun was a "forgotten man."

Today Petain held more power than any Frenchman since Napoleon III, with the right to govern as he pleased, until a new national assembly is formed.

Another constitutional act, signed by him, gave him powers "during this period of serious international tension and internal crisis." The constitution of the old parliament will remain through this transition period, but may not meet again.

SUBMIT REFERENDUM

The old senate and chamber of deputies legislated themselves from existence Tuesday and Wednesday. Petain's new constitution will be submitted to a referendum. Presumably all Frenchmen over 18 in German occupied areas will be asked to vote under the plan, but that apparently depended on Germany's decision.

Although more than half of France is occupied by a traitor of conquering Germany, Petain showed his intention to extend at least his civil power to the rest of the country by his desire to move the capital from his famed health resort to Versailles.

DEPENDS ON BERLIN

What Petain and his triumvirate of advisers—Pierre Laval, General Philippe Weygand and Admiral Marquet—can make of their new France appeared to depend on how Berlin supported Berlin was willing to give.

The new government is not just the old democracy temporarily masquerading under a totalitarian front.

Petain drew the outlines of the new French system in a broadcast yesterday.

The state will return to the provincial system of re-publication. France, he announced, the 35 former provinces will be re-established with governors to wield the local reins of power. Under the third republic was vested in prefects of 90 departments. Petain's plan will include 12 ministers. Some of them will function in Paris if the Germans approve.

Among Frenchmen in Switzerland it was reported the impression was growing that under the new system, with Weygand as premier, a Royalist sympathizer, France was about to return to a monarchy than a republic. The day after yesterday, as head of the House of Orleans, and his son, the Count of Paris, were the only French royalists left in the world.

RUSSIA ARMS TO MEET ANY NAZI ATTACK

meat, sugar and tea are plentiful but there is a notable lack of vegetables and fruits.

From Moscow to Vladivostok—more than 8,000 miles—the Baltic states was a reflex of Russian surprise and shock at the quick collapse of France and fears that the war might suddenly end.

The Baltic move may have been intended to forestall Germany. The march into Latvia occurred on the eve of a projected sports festival at which some 20,000 German tourists were expected. The Germans already had started flocking into Riga, where they were suddenly moved over the border in great haste.

RELATIONS WITH GERMANY

Despite official corrections to news and heard of many instances of hostility and suspicion.

The Moscow hotels are jammed with German tourists, many of them German. They are closely supervised. The Germans are allowed to move about the city, but their movements are closely watched.

The Russians with whom I spoke indicated plainly that they regarded the move into the Baltic and Rumania as designed to strengthen the Soviet sufficiently so that Germany would not be tempted to move against her.

RELATIONS WITH BRITAIN
The British appear to be making a major effort to win Soviet friendship. Relations between the British ambassador, Sir Stafford Cripps, and Premier M. Molotov are said to be very cordial.

The British bid for Soviet friendship may explain to some extent Russian activity in the Balkans and near east. It was reported that the British had secured Russia or a free hand in any changes Russia made there.

THE FAR EAST
The Soviet strengthening its position in the far east, about a tremendous movement of traffic on the trans-Siberian railroad. Many of these trains were carrying military supplies. I spotted 20 trains of 100 cars each carrying tanks, trucks, artillery and other heavy equipment.

attacks were down Wednesday by heavy enemy forces including armor. Over a thousand shells already had been fired into the post but so far the Italian forces have been comparatively light.

The post was surrounded by the Italian forces. The defense still is holding out and reinforcements are en route. Ground defenses are being repaired during intervals of the artillery bombardment.

Early Thursday morning three Caproni aircraft dropped many bombs in Walp. No damage was done. They were pursued by three of our aircraft, resulting in one enemy machine being shot down. A second was last seen with its starboard engine in flames and a third crashed. One enemy air gunner was killed. All our aircraft were undamaged.

British Columns

Harrying Italians
LONDON, July 12.—British "flying columns" of mechanized troops are harrying Italian troops out of the forts of Capuzzo and Maddalena in the frontlines of Egypt and Italian Libya, military informants said today.

Strong Italian columns had advanced to the frontier and momentarily pushed back British armored patrols operating in a 60-mile arc behind the frontlines.

These columns, part of Italian forces in Libya estimated here at 200,000 men, occupied four British troops previously had taken from garrisons of native Libyan troops.

The British "flying columns" now have flanked the forts and are harrying supply trains.

A pipeline running from the coast to supply the forts with water also has been cut, the informants said.

The main Italian stroke in the Libyan theatre has been a "reconnaissance column" as far as the British-held town of Salum (Solium) on the Mediterranean coast. It is still held by the British forces.

MOSCOW, July 12.—Otto Kuusinen, who headed the short-lived "People's Government of Finland" set up at Terijoki where the Finnish war began, today became chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the Karelo-Finnish Republic.

This dispatch answers the oft-asked question: "What happened to Otto Kuusinen?" Kuusinen's People's Government was recognized by the Soviet government.

Kuusinen's name, prominent in dispatches from Moscow in the first days of the war, has since disappeared and was not heard during peace negotiations.

Dover Strait Most Probable Point For Invasion Of Britain

WASHINGTON, July 12.—In the darkest hours for Britain during the first great war, the expression "Cheerio" became a national slogan of unshaken morale, just as the "thumbs-up" gesture of British Tommies amid today's portents is an ironic defiance of Nazi and Fascist salutes.

INFORMATION SETUP LIKELY BE REMODELED

National War Services Branch To Supervise Various Bureaux

OTTAWA, July 12.—The new national war services department will have supervision over public information and home front work. G. G. Gardiner, who will head the department, said last night he planned to give careful study to remodeling the entire information setup.

"I have not been able to study it very much," the minister said in an interview, "but I find many departments have their own publicity bureaux."

"It may be possible to bring them into one building so that they can be co-ordinated and one man can supervise the entire effort, rather than those at present working for a particular department to specialize in that department."

At present the government has press, radio, moving picture and other services for public enlightenment and promoting public morale. Since the war an information service under a director of public information has been set up under authority of the secretary of state's department.

The committee also would organize a voluntary movement within the constituency to provide the national registrar and the deputy registrars, free of cost, with the necessary premises for registration and other purposes.

The committee would help with any other sort of voluntary work that might be useful, the idea being to get as much as possible of the work done on a voluntary basis to eliminate cost to the nation.

Further, the committee would organize its whole constituency so people required to register would do so methodically and in order.

AUTO DEALERS TO GET RELIEF ON NEW TAXES

Will Not Have To Pay Full Tax On Cars On Hand At June 24

OTTAWA, July 12.—Automobile dealers with cars on their hands when the budget was brought down June 24 will be relieved of the full tax on new cars by an amendment moved in the House of Commons last night when the budget was being considered.

The amendment moved by Hon. J. L. Riley, minister of finance, had the effect of relieving dealers of the full tax on cars on hand when the budget was brought down June 24.

Refugee Princess Pleads For Refugee

Princess of Saxe-Coburg, wife of the former vice-chancellor of Austria (Prince Rudiger von Starbemberg), is shown with her son, John, just before they left New York for Washington. The princess, a refugee from her Nazi-ruled native land, is in the U.S. capital to plead the cause of the hundreds of thousands of refugees seeking a haven in the United States.

The C.O.T.C. groups, to be found at almost every Canadian College and University, will carry on as usual after the summer vacation. To those students already in training, the C.O.T.C. will be adding a number of those undergraduates exceptionally qualified.

Explaining the fact that except for several short refresher courses, activity would be suspended at the universities during the summer, an official here said last night many if not most Canadian students were away from their schools and working during their vacations.

Since C.O.T.C. courses were largely for the benefit of undergraduates although some graduates of a university might apply for entrance, it was considered advisable to suspend operations in this section until autumn.

It was pointed out activities of the C.O.T.C. under the auspices of the N.F.A.M. would proceed during the summer months. In order to join the three groups a man does not have to have a college degree, but must have other educational qualifications.

Meantime many Canadian University students are training for C.O.T.C. examinations they will write in August, and which will lead eventually to commissions in the Canadian Active Service Force.

Great Britain Launches Blitzkrieg On Gossips, Defeatism In Wartime

9TH CASUALTY LIST NAMES 31 CANADIANS

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 12.—Britain yesterday launched her own type of Blitzkrieg on gossip, rumor-mongering and defeatism—with newspaper advertisements three columns wide and nearly a page long urging readers to "Join Britain's silent column" described as composed of "sensible people who know when not to talk."

Issued by the ministry of information, the advertisement contained injunctions against discussing troop movements, passing on knowledge of air raid damage, and trusting enemy broadcasts. At the bottom of the page was the slogan: "Keep it to yourself, make others do the same."

The Herald and Mail used the appearance on its ad as the subject of editorials urging the government to play its part in killing rumors by telling much more possible about the war and allowing the press to pursue its legitimate functions unhindered.

The Mail pointed out considered views are impossible without full, free and accurate recording of news. It recalled the "meagre official versions" issued when the Germans were in the news, but France which resulted in the public being unprepared for the final catastrophe.

The Herald showed a picture of a girl making a contribution to the office "chatter box" as a self-imposed fine for careless talk.

Democratic And Efficient Plan Devised For Training Officers With C.O.T.C.

OTTAWA, July 12.—Canada's first plan for training officers in the militia military forces will be offered in the most efficient and democratic way possible, says an officer who will be his natural ability, education and military experience.

Following the announcement that military training for all male university students will be compulsory, the student ranks will be making at the universities for a commission has been clarified.

Most of the undergraduates will be trained as privates, the same as in the non-paramilitary active militia. From these student ranks the majority will be selected to train as officers in the Canadian Officers Training Corps.

As one officer put it, "a man makes a better officer if he has had training in the ranks." The C.O.T.C. groups, to be found at almost every Canadian College and University, will carry on as usual after the summer vacation.

To those students already in training, the C.O.T.C. will be adding a number of those undergraduates exceptionally qualified.

STATES ISSUES BIG CONTRACTS FOR WARPLANES LLOYD GEORGE PRAISES PLAN GROWING FOOD

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Working toward a goal of 23,000 new warplanes in the next two years, the United States defense commission announced yesterday that $100,000,000 worth of contracts had been awarded since July 1, when funds for the expansion program became available.

Officials said the fact that competitive bidding was required had assisted them in launching the program swiftly. The army and the navy merely drew up specifications, found manufacturers capable of handling their orders and then let the contracts.

First plane deliveries are expected by early fall. Congress, meanwhile, completed work on the $400,000,000 naval expansion bill and sent it to the White House.

The Welsh statesman, long a voice crying in the wilderness for Britain to speed up food production, said the introduction of new farm estimates.

He welcomed government plans for a field-to-field survey to assure that "each field makes its contribution to the life of the nation."

"If something is not done," said Mr. Lloyd George, "we may perish. If it is done, I am convinced we shall be saved."

The Welsh statesman, long a voice crying in the wilderness for Britain to speed up food production, said the introduction of new farm estimates.

He welcomed government plans for a field-to-field survey to assure that "each field makes its contribution to the life of the nation."

"If something is not done," said Mr. Lloyd George, "we may perish. If it is done, I am convinced we shall be saved."

He said the government had been assisted in launching the program swiftly. The army and the navy merely drew up specifications, found manufacturers capable of handling their orders and then let the contracts.

First plane deliveries are expected by early fall. Congress, meanwhile, completed work on the $400,000,000 naval expansion bill and sent it to the White House.

MORE AID TO BRITAIN IS SAID COMING

Businessman Says U.S. To Supply More Armaments
After Election

Great Britain will receive enormously increased help in armaments from the United States after the presidential election is over, no matter which candidate is elected to office, in the opinion of H. J. Mayer of Chicago, spice manufacturer and city visitor.

President of H. J. Mayer and Co. Ltd., with factories at Chicago and Windsor, Mr. Mayer is here on an annual business trip, visiting the Burns & Co. Ltd. plant. He is at the Macdonald hotel.

STRONG SENTIMENT
Sentiment in the United States, Mr. Mayer said in an interview with The Bulletin, is strongly in favor of Great Britain in the war with Germany and the country only hesitates in sending a force overseas. All other help is available.

Funds have been appropriated for the manufacture of airplanes in the United States and credits have been extended to Great Britain but industry has not yet swung into full production on arms, warplanes and fighting vehicles, he said. Production is sure to get into high gear when the election is over.

The democratic party of the world are too easy going and don't seem to be able to act quickly when there is an emergency. I am sure, however, that I believe that, when we see in the future, we should have a government that can exercise more dictatorial powers.

NOT AWARE
Mr. Mayer said he had travelled all over Europe for two years, said it was quite evident that Britain and France were not aware of the extent to which Germany was arming. Otherwise they would have been more prepared.

"When I was in Germany two years ago," he said, "I travelled all over the country, into the interior, and I could not see anything beyond what looked like a modern arms program. The factories where all those tanks were made must have been well hidden."

WORKED QUIETLY
At that time there were 100,000 French workmen in Germany. Many of them had seen anything of the huge armament production in Germany. They had reported it in France. But Hitler must have worked very much on the Q.T. Of course, with full industrial power, he was able to do that.

Mr. Mayer said that he imports most of his spices from British colonies, Java, Straits Settlements and India. Great Britain, he said, from her colonies, sells about 60 per cent of the world's spices.

Cherub Not Innocent City Hotel Finds As "Guest" Goes Looting

Police are looking for a youthful slicker who succeeded in pulling the wool over the usually sharp eyes of the management of a popular Jasper avenue hotel.

Posing as a son of a Chicago businessman residing at 7293 83 Street East, Chicago, the lad, who is about 15 or 16 years of age, showed the hotel management a telegram purportedly from dad in the States, asking for a room for his son for a few nights. The wire stated that the father himself would be here in a few days to settle the account for the boy.

The youngster was given a room and a pass-key just like any other guest. Dad had apparently been a trifle stingy with an expense account for the kid, because the first thing he did when established was to "put the bee" on a maid for a 24-cent tip.

GIVES A NAME
In plain, bold handwriting the youthful "visitor" registered as L. Moffatt, East Chicago.

The lad stayed one night and then a number of suspicious happenings occurred.

One of the maids missed $15 from her purse that she had left in a linen closet. Another one had 50 cents in copper states from her purse, while a master key was missing from the key ring of one of the employees.

After all these things the manager called the police and voiced his suspicions. Detectives wanted to "interview" the Chicago guest right there and then, but the manager asked to wait another station for a few days.

The detective agreed to this but had just returned to headquarters when a telephone call came from the Chicago guest.

The boy is described as being short and fat, and was wearing a brown sweater and gray pants when he was last seen.

WAR SAVINGS DRIVE OPENED BY TWO CLUBS
Following a breakfast meeting in the Corona Hotel, Friday morning, 130 members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs set out to call on 1,200 city business firms to urge them to buy war savings stamps and to give them to customers for their purchases.

The worker in the campaign was armed with folders of publicity material and counter cards, as well as a list of eight firms. Businessmen were to be sold the stamps and to be asked to enter into the Win-the-war campaign by selling the stamps over their counters and also giving them in change.

The workers will report back to their executive committee late Friday.

W. Horder, Winnipeg, C.P.R. general passenger agent for the prairie provinces, and Mr. Horder will arrive in the city Monday to spend a week here and attend the Edmonton Exhibition.

PROTECT YOUR EYES
By Jackson Bros., Optometrist

Your eyes are your most vigilant guardians. But do you guard them? Scientists have demonstrated that we acquire over 80 per cent of our knowledge through our eyes. Yet over 70 per cent of us are missing a part of that knowledge. In fact, the pleasure in seeing, without knowing it, eye defects do not merely dim the vision, they rob us of much of the joy of living, cause headaches and nervousness, and body disorders. Persons who drive cars and cannot see properly, and there are many who are unaware of their affliction, are a source of danger both to themselves and to others on the highway. Safety, activity and accomplishment are impaired through eye defects. Ninety-five per cent of all eye defects can be corrected by optical means. Only three out of ten persons wear glasses, but upon examination it is found that seven out of ten should wear them.

Have your eyes examined at least once a year. A reputable optometrist can help you save and preserve Nature's greatest gift to you, a gift that can never be replaced. Don't neglect your eyes. Don't visit your eye clinic, which is open to you every day except Sundays and holidays, and is in charge of Dr. J. W. Horder, who has secured his degree by University examination, who will give you eyes a thorough, exact examination.

If you require glasses you may have the use of them, while paying for them by using our well established, honest eye clinic, in weekly or monthly payments. For your appointment, call, write or phone 2574.

FORTY-NINERS PLA PARADE FOR JULY 21

Other Units Invited To Participate In Annual Event Here

Annual church parade and division of the 4th Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) Association will be held Sunday, July 21, it was announced Friday. The parade will be followed by a luncheon at the Memorial Hall.

Head each year on the Sunday following the close of the annual exhibition, this event gives many men who served with the regiment during the World War, an opportunity of gathering and honoring the memory of those comrades killed in action or who have died of wounds or as a result of other disabilities received in military service.

CRACK BATTALION
The gallant Forty-Niners, who made up one of the crack battalions of the Canadian Corps, will parade at the Market Square at 9:45 a.m. on July 21. Invitations have been issued to other units and organizations to join the association in honoring the fallen Forty-Niners.

The parade will be led by the Royal Canadian Regiment, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the 42nd Army Highlanders of Canada, which with the 40th formed the "Silver Seventh" Brigade of the Canadian Division.

Invitations to attend and participate also have been extended to the Canadian Legion, the Canadian Association, Army and Navy Veterans, Imperial War Veterans, the Amputations Association and other returned men's and women's organizations.

GRIEBACH TO COMMAND
The parade will be under command of Major General W. A. Griebach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., R.C., originally of the 4th Battalion, who is now commanding the regiment and now Inspector General of Canadian Forces in Western Canada.

Moving off from the market square, the parade will march south to Jasper Avenue, 107 street and south to the legislative buildings. At the government buildings, the religious units will be commanded by Canon G. G. Reynolds, of Holy Trinity church, who served as a company commander with the Princess Pats.

Another outstanding feature of the parade is the participation of the "South Alberta Regiment" (31st Bn., C.E.F.) which is being transferred to the Edmonton Garrison as part of the 4th Division, C.A.S.F., under command of Lt. Col. J. W. Horder. The Forty-Niners served with the Princess Pats in the World War. This will be the first time since 1918 that the unit and is expected to show the great progress made by the unit in training.

After the service the parade will

AROUND THE TOWN

Joining the Royal Canadian Air Force, John Turner, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner, minister Apartments, will leave the city next week for Toronto.

An inquest convened for ascertaining cause of the death of Herman McGilchrist, a Biche farmer, who died Wednesday last, as a result of an assault by two unknown persons, was adjourned until July 24 at Howard McGilchrist's funeral chapel Friday morning. A coroner's inquest was held at the residence of the Chief Coroner, Dr. R. A. Braithwaite, was sworn in and after viewing the remains, an adjournment was ordered.

Tenders for the delivery of approximately 17,000 city telephone directories must be in the hands of the city commissioners not later than 12 noon, Wednesday, July 17, it was announced Friday. Tenders must agree to pay the prevailing union rate of wages for truck drivers and be governed by the Provincial Minimum Fair Wage Act for other employees. The weekly report of the city telephone system revealed that there are 19,291 telephones now in service in the city, compared with 14,369 on the week and 89 removals.

The heavy rush of applicants to the Royal Canadian Air Force recruiting centre here has necessitated alterations to the recruiting office. The alterations, which were announced Friday, will be in effect on Monday, July 17. The alterations will be in the nature of a new layout of the office, which will be in effect on Monday, July 17.

Output of electrical power from the city power plant showed a net increase of 55,800 kilowatt hours for the week ending July 7 over the same period in 1939. It was revealed in the weekly report from the power department that the increase showed that there has been an increase of 3,236,000 k.w.h. since the first of January over last year. The electrical storm on July 7 caused one of the pumps maintaining the pressure to be shut down for 10 minutes by another pump.

Dazzling Fireworks To Flash For Fair Crowds: Flag Tableau Feature

Amid the crashing roar of artillery, the flashing of pom-poms, rifle fire and shrapnel bursts accompanied by a brilliant color display of red, green, blue, amber gold and silver stars, the Edmonton Exhibition Association's fireworks display at the summer show will be given at 10 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

In rapid succession there will tower into the air rockets that will break out into beautiful comets, which leave a trail of golden sparkles as they descend.

One of the most spectacular numbers of the display will be the "Temple Flower" rocket. This huge rocket will burst into a glorious display of far eastern flowers with petals of vivid green and petals of sparkling gold tipped with a delicate lily white.

Another feature of the display will be the rocket "Colony of the Air" which discharges far and wide 18 smaller shells that burst into bunches of solid colors, filling the sky with sparkling gems.

Tableaux of beauty and vividness are provided in the display, chief of which is the ascent of tropic palms which rise from the ground to over 150 feet in the air, forming massive columns of fiery red, and at the peak of their height burst into cascades of multi-colored gems.

PATRIOTIC DISPLAY
Another tableau which will attract favorable comment is the patriotic feature of the display. The centennial number of this display is a gigantic Union Jack waving in the breeze. In the centre of the flag stands a massive English building. Below the flag is the motto: "What we have we hold," and flanking it are three large emerald-green maple leaves with the Royal crown in the centre of each. Between the maple leaves and flag are large clusters of high-climbing red, white and blue fireworks.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
BETTY MARY JORDAN—Pretty young Border Patrol Service agent.
SHERIDAN STARR—Handsome Border Patrol officer.
HOPE KILGARE—Starry's fellow officer, also a bachelor.
LUIS BARRO—Mexican smuggler.
Vesterday, Betty and the officers were back to the barracks, but they wonder if Barro will change his mind and come back to the barracks in Mexico to check on this.

CHAPTER XXVI
For a full half hour Sherry, Hope, and Betty Mary talked and argued earnestly about whether one of the officers should go back to Mexico in disguise. It was Betty Mary who argued, almost desperately, against either of them going. "It is not worth it," she insisted. "We can take our chances on this side of knowing when Barro starts across, and where. Your lives would be in grave danger over there, I tell you!"

"No doubt," said Hope, laconically. "You might, uh, mention to Washington, when you get the chance, that patrolling the Mexican-American frontier is not a pink tea enterprise."

It was the first hint of sarcasm she had ever heard from Hope Kildare, but she realized that she had it coming. She who had been sent out to reprimand two courageous officers for inefficiency. Her glance turned down at the table between them. For a long time she said nothing, then finally whispered, "Yes. Do whatever you men think is right."

"And now," Hope resumed, "I am the one who should go to Mexico, you Sherry. When you see the old woodman Barro's outfit will have reasoned by now that you took Betty Mary away in the kitchen trash, whereas the butcher's kitchen—who was really I—went everywhere unsuspected."

"I could change my disguise," Sherry protested.

Look more like a Mexican, naturally. My features do. A little mustache, and I look like a stranger even to myself. I can slip over there, posing like a lazy prospector or maybe a woman hauler or prospector or something myself, and signal you when Barro starts to move. See?"

He would be in no more danger, Sheridan, than you would directing the fight against Barro," Betty Mary said. "You're taking a risk. And they all realized it was true. Having been assigned to "get" Barro, Hope or Sherry would doubtless be placed in charge at any showdown.

All right," Sherry agreed, finally. "Take some of the flares. Strap them to your body under your shirt. Red ones and white ones. If Barro's force starts toward New Channel, as planned, set three red flares off about 50 feet apart. I'll be watching with glasses in the tower here. Okay?"

Okay," said Hope, nodding. "I slip up to a spot on a hillside and shield the flares with rocks so they won't be visible from his house. They burn about 10 minutes, so you shouldn't miss them."

Right. Make it two reds and one white, if Barro starts in an other direction. But I don't think he will. I think he may change the date, but not the place. New Channel is ideal for him, really. And it is far enough down that it has not been used much, if any, as he'll know we wouldn't normally be guarding there, in any form."

"It's where the Rio Grande left its channel a while back, Betty Mary. Hope whispered. "I cut out in a flood, and moved a quarter mile eastward for almost a mile. Barro's house is a hillside, and shelter, and not far from the highway where aliens could be picked up in cars on our side. It's an ideal place, right enough, for Barro."

For Saturday night supper, a total of 126 men and women, mostly men, were served in the rooms and patio of Luis Barro's ranch house. Of this number, 108 were foreigners who had paid heavily to be smuggled into the United States. Several of them had been solicited by Barro's agents as far away as Honolulu. At least half of them were Asiatics, a few were European, the remainder Mexican. Barro's hired interpreters had seen to it that the polyglot assembly had become distinctly restless from sheer inertia and impatience, and Barro knew he must move them as soon as possible. Each one of each group seemed to distrust the other, and yet each was admittedly in Barro's hands. Instantly they urged him to hurry with his promised "easy" transportation into the famous land of freedom and ease.

"Gonzalez," Barro snapped, immediately after the Saturday night meal. "Tell the interpreters it is time to move. Explain with care. Nobody is to shoot unless the officers happen to appear. Nobody is to talk, or make noise. The river here is shallow. Wade right across, go direct to the highway. Twelve cars, one bus, one truck will be there to take them right on eastward. But at once, they come single file through the back of the house, for the guns."

Gonzalez, Barro's lieutenant, passed the word, and immediately a subdued murmur of excitement crept over the foreigners. The talking rose in a slow crescendo, and then, as if by order, it stopped. But tension was in the air. Even the humblest servant in the house was tense. Barro began leaning rifle and side arm.

"The price is $50 each, American money," Barro coldly instructed each man in turn. Actually the guns had been obtained for an average of about $5 each; some had even been stolen.

The protests were vociferous—these people, who had been milked repeatedly of smuggling fees. But Barro was hard.

"Then pass on without, and be killed," he barked at them, and his interpreters translated in kind. Most of the men paid and took

MARTINIQUE SETTLEMENT IN PROSPECT

United States' Efforts Are Believed Likely To Keep Peace

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A settlement removing the threat of British and French naval hostilities near the Caribbean island of Martinique appeared in prospect today through efforts of United States.

Both Britain and France were believed to be anxious to clear up what was described as a "dead-end" dispute over the island.

With the two former allies in dispute, the situation was described as "dead-end" because of the fact that neither side was willing to make a concession.

Details of the prospective arrangement were not disclosed, but it was expected to involve a French agreement to keep any warships or planes at Martinique or to allow them to be interned at some neutral port.

Among the warships there is the French battleship Richelieu, which is reported to have arrived some 200 American-made planes consigned to France before the Armistice with Germany.

FOIT DE FRANCE, Martinique, July 12. A British naval officer, who is believed to be in the West Indies, has been reported to have been in the area of the island of Martinique.
